FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - Tampa, FL March 3, 2010:

HTRD Group Hong Kong Limited is pleased to announce that it has entered an agreement with Danaher Motion to supply exclusively to HTRD, the servo-amplifier and servo-motor technology which are an intricate part of the DRX9000™ device. The servo amplifier is necessary in order for the treatment computer to operate the DRX9000™, as seen on http://www.kollmorgen.com/website/com/eng/industry_solutions/medical.php.

This essential part will be available only through HTRD's exclusive international distributor, Excite Medical Corp. Excite Medical is looking forward to working closely with current DRX9000™ owners domestically and all previous DRX9000™ distributors around the globe. If you would like to find out more about the sales, support, or distribution, please feel free to visit our website or contact Excite Medical for more information.

ABOUT HTRD AND EXCITE MEDICAL CORP.

HTRD Group Hong Kong Limited is the current owner of Axiom Worldwide's intellectual property rights, including the DRX9000™ and related devices. These devices were previously produced by Axiom Worldwide, but have been sold by its bank under legal proceedings. HTRD has chosen Excite Medical Corp., for its knowledge and ability to distribute & support these devices successfully, to be the exclusive contract manufacturer and distributor worldwide.
